A RECIPE FOR SUCCESS

Labor Day is much more than the unofficial end of summer. It's the day set aside to celebrate the more than 150 million people who are employed in America's workforce. We all have our areas of expertise; our individual skills and characteristics that help us excel at our chosen occupation. But just as different ingredients can be combined together to make a delicious meal, the combined efforts of our workforce make a strong and successful economy.

Next time you are at your favorite store, restaurant or service provider, take a moment and thank the employees for their work. It will be a bright spot in their day and maybe yours too!

Of course, I think we have some pretty fabulous workers right here at South Trail Tire & Auto Repair. I appreciate their hard work and their dedication to providing you with the best service and repair.

A FEW THINGS TO KEEP IN MIND

Fluid Leaks

We have been noticing more vehicles coming in for service with serious low oil levels...many times over three quarts low! This can cause engine damage and that is an awfully expensive repair. Do not let this happen to your car. Even if your car manual says you can go many miles before an oil change, if it is leaking oil, you will have problems.

All fluids are vitally important to your car's health, so make sure you have them checked and topped off from time to time! These include engine oil, brake fluid, transmission fluid (if you drive an automatic), coolant, power steering fluid, and windshield washer fluid.

Remote Working?

Vehicles perform better when they are driven. If your car spends a lot of time just sitting, take it for a spin now and then to keep it running well. If your mileage is a lot lower between oil changes and service than it used to be, at least have it serviced once a year to keep it in tip-top shape!

Rubber

Belts, hoses, wipers, and tires are all made of rubber! Rubber ages and can deteriorate while looking normal. We check these out whenever a vehicle comes in for service to keep you safe and save you money in the long run.
